Cindy Sherman at Metro Pictures

When: On view through Oct. 31 at any time

Where: The Metro Pictures online viewing room

Photographer Cindy Sherman continues her investigation into identity (and its deconstruction) with a new series of 10 large-scale images. Set against vibrant, digitally-manipulated backgrounds, Sherman's androgynous characters don designer clothing and stare down the camera. You can spend as long as you want gazing back into their eyes courtesy Metro Pictures, which is currently staging the show online, as well as in-person by appointment.
